

Constitutional Governance

Constitutional Authority

The Explorer Universe Constitution is the highest governing document of the Explorer Universe. Its principles take precedence over every subordinate document, guideline, production system, or creative work.

Constitutional Hierarchy

The constitutional authority of the Explorer Universe — governing canonical and creative decisions, not internal documentation engineering standards — shall remain:

1. Explorer Universe Constitution
2. Constitutional companion documents approved under the Constitution (including the Explorer Studio Brand Bible, Creative Philosophy, and Creative Development Framework)
3. World Bibles
4. Guild Codices
5. Production Bibles
6. Visual Bibles
7. Character Bibles
8. Story Bibles
9. Operational Systems
10. Production Documentation
11. Individual Productions

Documentation structure, classification, and engineering standards are governed separately by the Explorer Studio Documentation Standards, which implements — and does not compete with — this hierarchy.

Constitutional Interpretation

The Constitution shall be interpreted according to its enduring principles rather than isolated wording. Whenever uncertainty arises, the interpretation that best preserves the First Truth, stewardship, integrity, humility, wonder, faithful remembrance, and responsibility shall prevail.

Constitutional Consistency

No official document, production, story, character, institution, or future world shall knowingly contradict the Constitution.

Where a conflict is discovered, the Constitution shall remain the governing authority until formally amended.

Constitutional Amendments

The Constitution is intended to remain stable across generations.

Amendments shall therefore be exceptional rather than routine.

A constitutional amendment should occur only when:

- production experience demonstrates a genuine constitutional need,
- a contradiction requiring resolution is discovered,
- a principle requires clarification to preserve long-term consistency, or
- the Explorer Universe reaches a stage of development that cannot be faithfully governed without constitutional expansion.

Amendments shall never be made merely to follow creative preference, temporary trends, or stylistic revision.

Production Relationship

The Constitution governs production.

Production does not govern the Constitution.

However, production experience may reveal opportunities to strengthen the Constitution through carefully considered amendments that preserve its identity.

Constitutional Stewardship

Every creator entrusted with the Explorer Universe accepts the responsibility to preserve the integrity of this Constitution.

The highest duty of every steward is not innovation alone.

It is faithful continuity.

The Constitution shall therefore remain a living foundation—stable in its principles, thoughtful in its growth, and enduring in its purpose.

Thus is established the Explorer Universe Constitution as the supreme constitutional authority of the Explorer Universe for the Initial Production Era.
